TEAM MEMBER

WHAT I CONTRIBUTED THIS SPRINT

Yunchao He

Defined initial target users, region, and job scope.

Zetong Li

Organized weekly updates and project documents.

Dan Ma

Updated Kanban board and tracked team tasks.

Lufei Liu

Refined product flow across the three core features.

Rongsheng Zhu

Drafted basic resume-to-job matching logic.

Wenzheng Huang

Organized interview questions by role category.

Muyang Jiang

Designed user journey and low-fidelity flow.

Name

ONE SENTENCE — WHY

We are on track because the scope and main features are now clearer.

CURRENT BLOCKER

name the specific problem, not "it's hard"

Our main blocker is that we still need to define a realistic first-release scope more precisely, especially which regions, job categories, and content sources to include, and how to obtain enough representative job postings and interview questions for a credible prototype.

OUR ONE QUESTION FOR THE PATHFINDER

For our first prototype, would you recommend that we narrow the platform to one region and a few job categories first, and is it acceptable to use a manually curated set of job postings and interview questions instead of a large real-time database?
